About Myself UK Dance

myselfdance.com | @myselfdance

All-female Hip-Hop dance company, Myself UK Dance, was founded in 2008 by creative artist Kloé Dean to challenge the male-dominated Hip-Hop scene by inspiring not only females but also wider society. The collective promotes empowerment, ambition, individuality and self-worth through Hip-Hop dance and the slogan 'I Love Myself'.

Determined to challenge the male-dominated Hip Hop scene, Kloé has brought together a group of strong female dancers. An idea which began with just a few young women in a room has since grown to become an empowering company of performers.
